Appointment of metropolitan archbishop of Manila, Philippines

The Holy Father has appointed as metropolitan archbishop of Manila, the Philippines, His Eminence Cardinal Jose Forte Advincula, transferring him from the metropolitan see of Capiz.

Curriculum vitae

His Eminence Cardinal Jose Forte Advincula was born on 30 March 1952 in Dumalag, in the metropolitan archdiocese of Capiz. After his elementary studies in Dumalag, he entered the High School of the Saint Pius X seminary in Roxas City, where he also carried out his studies in philosophy. He subsequently attended courses in theology at the Pontifical and Royal University of Santo Tomas of Manila.

He was ordained a priest for the metropolitan archdiocese of Capiz on 14 April 1976.

He was then appointed as spiritual director of the Saint Pius X Seminary, at the same time holding the offices of professor and dean of studies. He subsequently began his studies in psychology at the De La Salle University of Manila, and in canon law at the Pontifical and Royal University of Santo Tomas of Manila and at the Pontifical University of Saint Thomas Aquinas-Angelicum in Rome, obtaining a licentiate in canon law.

Upon returning to his homeland, he served in the seminary of Vigan, Nueva Segovia, and in the regional seminary of Jaro. In 1995 he was appointed as rector of the Saint Pius X seminary of Capiz, at the same time becoming defender of the bond, promoter of justice and finally judicial vicar of Capiz. In 1999 he became parish priest of Saint Thomas of Villanueva in Dao.

Appointed as bishop of San Carlos on 25 July 2001, he was consecrated the following 8 September. On 9 November 2011 he was transferred to the metropolitan see of Capiz.

He was created Cardinal, of the Title of San Vigilio, by Saint Francis in the Consistory of 28 November 2020.

Resignation and appointment of metropolitan archbishop of Cartagena, Colombia

The Holy Father has accepted the resignation from the pastoral care of the metropolitan archdiocese of Cartagena, Colombia, presented by Archbishop Jorge Enrique Jiménez Carvajal, C.I.M.

The Holy Father has appointed as metropolitan archbishop of Cartagena, Colombia, Bishop Francisco Javier Múnera Correa, I.C.M., of San Vicente del Caguán, Colombia.

Curriculum vitae

Bishop Francisco Javier Múnera Correa was born on 21 October 1956 in Copacabana, metropolitan archdiocese of Medellín. He carried out his studies in philosophy at the major seminaries of the Consolata Missionaries and the metropolitan archdiocese of Medellín, and in theology at the Pontificia Universidad Javeriana of Bogotá. He was awarded a licentiate in missiology from the Pontifical Gregorian University of Rome.

He gave his religious vows for the Institute of Consolata Missionaries on 25 December 1981, and received priestly ordination on 8 August 1982.

He has served as vice rector of the International Seminary of the Bravetta Institute of Consolata Missionaries in Rome (1983-1986), parish vicar in Loyangalani in the diocese of Marsabit in Kenya (1987-1991), and rector of the International Seminary of the Institute of Consolata Missionaries in Bogotá (1983-1998).

On 28 November 1998 he was appointed as titular bishop of Aquae Novae in Numidia and vicar apostolic of San Vicente - Puerto Leguizamo. He received episcopal consecration on 11 February 1999. On 30 May 2019, on the occasion of the elevation of the vicariate to a diocese, he was appointed as the first bishop of San Vicente del Caguán.
